WHAT IS BAD BREATH AND WHY SHOULD IT BE PREVENTED?

the concept of halitosis

By the concept of bad breath, or halitosis, we mean the unpleasant, sometimes even very, odor coming out of the mouth. It is unfortunately perceptible by the people with whom we talk, for example, whose reactions can sometimes be quite unpleasant. This phenomenon is particularly severe in the morning hours, and statistics show that it may already affect nearly 50 percent of our country's population. This is definitely a cause for concern, in some cases signifying that there are some changes in the body, developing diseases.

WHAT COULD BE THE CAUSE OF BAD BREATH?

This is why it is so necessary to detect the causes of this condition immediately. A correct diagnosis determines the use of an appropriate method of getting rid of this problem, including the use of such a multi-ingredient dietary supplement as the Dentolan . Its action can be considered multi-faceted, supporting the management of the following causes of the fact that a not very pleasant odor comes out of our mouths:

- Negligence in dental and oral hygiene, that is, the result of our own omissions in this regard. If we do not regularly brush our teeth with a good toothpaste, bacteria and plaque will start to build up on them, promoting the development of gingivitis, tooth decay or periodontitis. It's also a good idea to floss your teeth to remove food debris from between the teeth and use an antibacterial mouthwash;

- failure to follow hygiene rules regarding the wearing and use of dentures. It, too, should be washed daily and watched to ensure that food debris does not settle between the top of the denture and the palate;
- compulsive smoking and frequent eating of foods with an intense taste, such as large amounts of garlic and onions;
- excessive dryness in the mouth, too low saliva secretion, also contributing to the removal of impurities from the teeth and mouth, which can be caused by an improper diet, poor in nutrients;
- inflammatory conditions and diseases, one of the symptoms of which is just bad breath. These include digestive disorders, slowing of metabolism, the cause of which again is improper diet. Halitosis is also caused by gastric reflux, inflammation of the sinuses and throat, ketoacidosis;
- disorders of a psychological nature, primarily stress, as a result of which there can be a strong discharge of cortisol leading to dry mouth;
- certain medications with similar effects, such as those for high blood pressure, or those with dehydration as a side effect.

DENTOLAN – WHICH OF ITS INGREDIENTS CAN HELP FIGHT HALITOSIS

Dentolan

As you can see, the causes of halitosis are many, and these are only some of the factors that cause it. Therefore, a dietary supplement that supports its elimination should work on many levels, including inside the body, removing the cause of the problem. This is determined by its composition, not only effective, but also safe, which does not cause side effects. Such are the capsules Dentolan, full of natural active substances, including several of plant origin. The most important ingredients that determine the effect of the preparation are:

DIGEZYME®

Under this name is a specially composed, unique set of digestive enzymes.

DigeZyme® contains the likes of cellulase, lactase, lipase, protease and alpha-amylase, whose main function is to:

- support the functioning of the digestive system;
- More efficient breakdown of food macromolecules;
- more thorough detoxification of the body;
- providing perceptibly fresher breath.

This enzyme complex is furthermore vegan, free of GMO and harmful gluten, resistant to the influence of gastric juices, safe to use and manufactured to the highest standards and quality standards.

LACTOSPORE® MTCC 5856 PROBIOTIC BACTERIA

The manufacturer of Dentolan also appreciates the importance of probiotics, which is why it used another unique component in its capsules, LactoSpore® MTCC 5856 probiotic bacteria complex. Its action boils down to:

- reducing the feeling of discomfort accompanying many digestive disorders, bloating that causes the accumulation of excess gas;
- preservation of normal daily bowel movements;
- reducing the frequency of constipation;
- alleviate the negative effects associated with lactose intolerance;
- strengthen the immune system, a natural firewall that protects us from infections.

PEPPERMINT LEAF EXTRACT

peppermint

A popular plant with numerous properties known since ancient times. The extract uses peppermint leaves (Mentha piperita), full of vitamin A, B vitamins, vitamin C, vitamin D, flavonoids, tannins, carotenoids, magnesium, potassium, calcium and iron. It is thanks to these that this species of mint:

- has antibacterial and spasmolytic, or spasmodic, properties;
- helps with various digestive ailments, stomach cramps, flatulence, nausea and indigestion;
- strengthens weakened immunity;
- stimulates the secretion of gastric juices, improves intestinal function and digestive processes.

FENNEL FRUIT EXTRACT

fennel

Also called fennel (Foeniculum vulgare Mill) also favorably supports the action of Dentolan, helping to get rid of unpleasant odor from the mouth. At the same time, it is another source of valuable compounds for health. It contains vitamin A, B, C, vitamin E and vitamin K, zinc, phosphorus, magnesium, potassium, sodium, calcium and iron. Such a mixture influences the properties of fennel and Dentolan capsules:

- lower perceived discomfort of the digestive system;
- reduction of smooth muscle tension in the digestive system;
- support of all digestive processes;
- better peristalsis, i.e., intestinal motility;
- anti-inflammatory and antiseptic effects, helping to fight inflammation and infection.

ARTICHOKE LEAF EXTRACT [2.5% CYNARIN].

artichoke

Common artichoke (Cynara scolymus), is another treasure trove of substances that will quickly make halitosis only an unpleasant memory. In artichoke flowers are large amounts of vitamin C, vitamin E, minerals like those in fennel, and inulin, a compound similar in action to fiber. Such composition automatically translates into action:

- improving bile flow in the bile ducts;
- antibacterial, protecting the digestive system from infections and bacterial diseases;
- hepatoprotective, that is, shielding liver cells from damage;
- supporting processes leading to the removal of toxins and unnecessary metabolic products from the body.

FENUGREEK SEED EXTRACT [25% SAPONINS].

fenugreek seed

Reviewing the substances of plant origin included in Dentolan, we must mention the following. fenugreek seed (Trigonella foenum-graecum). Among other things, its seeds provide vitamins A, B, including folic acid, steroidal saponins, amino acids, essential oils, phospholipids, dietary fiber and mineral salts, determining:

- The antibacterial and anti-inflammatory properties of fenugreek;
- Improving digestive processes and the body's absorption of nutrients from food;
- Strengthening the work of the immune system;
- counteracting the effects of digestive disorders, reflux, indigestion, bloating and constipation;
- protecting liver cells and accelerating liver regeneration.

BROMELAIN FROM THE FRUIT OF THE EDIBLE PINEAPPLE

pineapple

This is an enzyme extracted from the much-loved common pineapple (Ananas comosus), primarily responsible for more efficient digestion of proteins; however, its other properties are also important, among them:

- antibacterial and anti-inflammatory activity;
- strengthening the body's natural immunity;
- reduction of digestive problems, including support for the removal of deposits from the intestines;
- better absorption of amino acids;
- minimizing the risk of developing gum disease, one of the common causes of halitosis;
- regulating the level of gastric juices secretion.

PAPAIN FROM PAPAYA FRUIT

papaya

The source of this ingredient in Dentolan halitosis capsules, is papaya fruit (Carica papaya), also packed to the brim with vitamin A, B vitamins (thiamine, riboflavin, niacin and folic acid), phosphorus, magnesium, potassium, sodium, calcium and iron. As with other ingredients, these compounds give papaya properties:

- antioxidant, helping to remove free radicals, a dangerous pathogen, from the body;
- antibacterial, antifungal, anti-inflammatory and analgesic;
- Supporting the functioning of the immune system;
- supporting the digestion of macronutrients.
