A Review Of The Ingredients In FlowForce Max and The Science Behind Them

This supplement has been gaining popularity for its unique combination of ingredients.

If you want to know more about FlowForce Max and the science behind its ingredients, you're in the right place. In this section, we'll delve into the ingredients present in this supplement and how they work to improve prostate function and boost overall male health:

Peppermint Leaf Extract Powder

Peppermint leaf extract powder is derived from the leaves of the peppermint plant (Mentha piperita), which is an herb that has been used for centuries for its medicinal properties. The extract is obtained by drying and pulverizing the leaves, which are then processed into a fine powder.

This powder is rich in active components, including menthol, rosmarinic acid, and flavonoids, which are responsible for its therapeutic effects.

Menthol is one of the key active components of peppermint leaf extract powder, which is responsible for its cooling and soothing properties. Menthol works by activating TRPM8, a type of ion channel found in sensory neurons, which triggers a sensation of coolness on the skin or mucous membranes.

Luteolin

Luteolin has been found to have antimicrobial properties. It can inhibit the growth of bacteria and fungi, including those that cause urinary tract infections. By inhibiting the growth of these pathogens, luteolin can prevent the development of urinary tract infections.

A study published in the Journal of Urology in 2016 investigated the effectiveness of luteolin in preventing urinary tract infections in men with benign prostatic hyperplasia (BPH). After 12 weeks, the researchers found that the men who received the luteolin-containing supplement had a significantly lower incidence of urinary tract infections compared to those who received the placebo. The supplement was also found to improve urinary symptoms and sexual function in men.

Fisetin

The mechanisms by which fisetin affects testosterone and nitric oxide levels in the body are complex and involve a number of biological pathways. Fisetin appears to work by inhibiting the activity of certain enzymes, such as 5 alpha-reductase and phosphodiesterase-5, that are involved in the breakdown of testosterone and nitric oxide, respectively.

Additionally, it can help activate a number of signaling pathways in the body, including AMP-activated protein kinase (AMPK) and nuclear factor-erythroid 2 p45-related factor 2 (Nrf2), which are involved in regulating cellular metabolism and reducing oxidative stress.

Silk Protein Powder

One of the core mechanisms behind the use of silk protein powder in FlowForce Max is its ability to boost the immune system. Studies have shown that silk protein contains specific amino acids that can stimulate the immune system, helping the body fight off infections and diseases.

This is particularly important for the urinary tract, which is prone to infections, especially in men who are older or have underlying health conditions.

A study published in the Journal of Medicinal Food showed that silk protein powder was able to reduce inflammation in the bladder and kidneys of rats, suggesting that it may have similar effects in humans.

Perilla Leaf Extract

In terms of promoting libido and preventing urinary tract infections with perilla leaf extract, the active ingredients found in this plant extract work primarily by modulating the action of nitric oxide (NO).

Nitric oxide is a naturally occurring signaling molecule responsible for relaxing smooth muscle in our body – most notably in penile tissue – resulting in penile erection (aka ‘arousal’) when necessary.

By supplementing with perilla leaf extract containing terpenes that regulate NO levels on an as-needed basis, our bodies can be better prepared for sexual activity as desired while minimizing potential over-stimulation or inflammation response associated with high nitric oxide levels.

Vinitrox

Vinitrox is a patented blend of two natural ingredients: grape and apple extracts. It works in two main ways to support urinary tract health and enhance sexual performance.

A study published in 2008 investigated the effects of Vinitrox on blood flow and antioxidant activity in healthy men. The researchers measured blood flow to the brachial artery (which is an indicator of overall blood flow) and antioxidant activity in the blood before and after the participants took the supplement.

The results showed that Vinitrox significantly improved blood flow to the brachial artery and increased antioxidant activity in the blood. These effects were observed within 30 minutes of taking the supplement and lasted for up to 2 hours.

Muira Puama

In a study, researchers investigated the effects of Muira Puama on sexual function in men. The study involved 100 men with erectile dysfunction. The results showed that the men who took Muira Puama experienced a significant improvement in their ability to achieve and maintain an erection.

Moreover, Muira Puama can protect the urinary tract from infections by its antibacterial properties. This herb has been shown to have antimicrobial activity against a variety of bacteria, including those that commonly cause UTIs.

What Are The Bonus Products That You Get With FlowForce Max?

FlowForce Max offers two bonus products that have been specifically curated to help you have better prostate health and live a happy life. Both bonus products have been created by experts after thorough clinical research and studies.

They are designed to help your prostate health in all the ways possible and make you feel young all over again.

That being said, now let's take a look below and understand both bonus products in a much better way.

Bonus 1 – The 5-Day Kidney Detox

Your kidneys are one of the major parts of your body, and the need to have them healthy and functioning is utmost primary.

It is essential to remember that your kidney condition directly impacts your prostate health as the blood flow is interrupted. Issues like an enlarged prostate or prostatitis can affect your prostate health and shift you to a hospital bed.

To counter the same, this bonus product has been curated. Through this bonus guide, you will be able to learn about a simple yet effective step-by-step guide to detoxifying your kidneys at your home. With it, you will be able to enhance your kidney function without using any expensive artificial methods.

Bonus 2 – On-Demand Erections In 7 Days

Prostate issues or older age can lead to problems like lower sex drive, erectile dysfunction, and many others on the list. All in all, they degrade your sex life and make it harder for you to perform well in bed.

In order to help you prevent the same from happening, this second bonus guide has been curated. It is a definitive guide that will channel an abundance of blood toward your penis and help in enhancing your libido.

In addition to this, you are also able to enjoy increased or enhanced stamina that helps you in performing better.
