Fucoxanthin: Derived from brown algae, fucoxanthin is linked to promoting metabolism and fat oxidation, contributing to weight loss efforts.

Ginseng: A well-known herb in traditional medicine, ginseng is incorporated for its potential to reduce inflammation and support weight loss while enhancing energy metabolism.

Citrus Pectin: Collaborating with other nutrients in the formula, citrus pectin aids in eliminating fat cells responsible for weight gain and contributes to overall nutrient intake and satiety.

Dandelion: Acknowledged for its ability to lower uric acid levels in the gut, dandelion is a key ingredient in addressing one of the root causes of weight gain.

Resveratrol: Found in fruits like grapes, resveratrol is known for its role in improving heart health and promoting fat metabolism.

The supplement is designed to be consumed in powdered form, mixed with water, juice, or a preferred beverage. By targeting uric acid and incorporating a comprehensive blend of ingredients, Ikaria Lean Belly Juice aims to help users achieve healthy weight loss, boost metabolism, control appetite, and support overall well-being.
