PIPERINOX – COMPOSITION BASED ON PIPERINE

The effectiveness of a given preparation is always determined by its composition, which should be based exclusively on natural, preferably plant-based, ingredients with proven, wide-ranging effects.

Weight loss treatment is a complex, multi-stage process, requiring a strictly scientific approach, using only proven means, being the result of many years of research and laboratory tests. In this way, we have developed

Piperinox which can be boldly called an innovative solution, which is proven by the selection of substances it contains:

- piperine It is an organic compound, an alkaloid extracted from the outer layer of black peppercorns, a popular spice which we all use in cooking, with many valuable health promoting properties. It stimulates the digestive system to work harder, speeds up metabolism, acts as a diuretic and laxative, helping to remove toxins from the body, also has anti-cancer, antibacterial and antioxidant properties. It is an excellent weight-loss agent due to its effects on the process of thermogenesis, heat generation during which calories are burned, and on the process of lipase, which in turn facilitates fat burning. As recent studies have shown, piperine also interferes with the activity of genes responsible for the formation of fat cells, blocking their accumulation;
- capsicumfruit extract containing capsaicin, which speeds up metabolism, also has a beneficial effect on thermogenesis and forms a protective layer in the stomach, preventing painful irritations

cinnamon

- extract from the bark of the cinnamon tree, another proven slimming agent. It, too, is a thermogenic, that is, a substance that accelerates fat burning. Cinnamon lowers the level of cholesterol in blood, preventing atherosclerosis, it also regulates the whole carbohydrate economy of the body, making it easier to maintain a healthy weight;
- guarana, one of the best known substances with slimming properties , thanks to the content of caffeine it has a stimulating effect, improves concentration and gives energy necessary to exercise or many other daily activities;

- bitter orange fruit extract, which accelerates digestion of carbohydrates and fats, allowing better weight control. It facilitates the absorption of essential nutrients, and the synephrine contained in it reduces the appetite and also provides energy;

- Ginger extract with a warming effect, supporting carbohydrate metabolism, increasing immunity and lowering blood sugar levels, which is also supported by a high amount of chromium.
