Scientific Research Behind the Shambala Secret Program

Since the ancient days, people enjoyed listening to music. They used bells, chimes, and chants to find spiritual and physical healing. Additionally, historical documents show that meditation practices were vital for reprogramming the soul by altering subliminal thoughts.

The Shambala Secret is supposedly science-backed. According to the creator, there are some harmonics that are scientifically proven to influence the subconscious mind. By combining the gamma brainwaves and 3D audio sound, the Shambala Secret program alters the subconscious mind directly.

The manifestation protocol triggers the brain to operate within the gamma brainwave Frequency, which influences alertness and attention. Listening to the 22-minutes track for nine days reprograms the subconscious conductor to focus on what one desires.

Additionally, the creator claims that an individual's attention creates reality. The gamma brainwaves in the audio bind the senses together, boosting attention. The protocol also restructures the brain, manifesting life abundance. Moreover, the 3-D sound stimulates the neural pathways in the brain, revitalizing and enabling it to recreate itself in new realities.

Features and Phases

The manifestation protocol comprises distinctive phases, 3D sound, and gamma brainwaves. It's designed to enable consumers to cultivate a positive mindset, boost self-confidence, and live a fulfilling life. Each phase is highly interactive, with guided meditations. The three different phases include:

Phase #1: Induction Phase

In this phase, consumers are enabled to transition from a conscious to a subconscious functioning system, where the conductor exists. It comprises an audible guided meditation linked to gamma brainwaves and an immersive 3-D auditory experience. Based on this combo, the conductor is transformed to receive new instructions, enabling users of the program to focus their attention on new reality.

Phase #2: Subversion Phase

This phase is subliminal, and the ears do not hear the guided meditation. However, the phase is aimed at bypassing the conscious mind to the subconscious conductor. The phase combines 3D sound and gamma brainwaves that subvert the old soundtrack of life. The subconscious mind processes 500,000 times more information compared to the conscious mind, and the program aims at reaching the conductor to enhance manifestation and life abundance.

Phase #3: Re-Awakening Phase

The last phase gets one off the subliminal phase. It fuses the subconscious mind with the conscious realm. As a result, the brainwave frequencies provide one with alertness and relaxation.
