

TerraCalm Reviews: Real Customer Results or Fake Benefits? (Update)

Nail infections can be perilous if you fail to take care of them immediately. More often than not infections are caused by fungal attacks which can go unrecognized for days. The worst part is that fungus can attack the skin soon after demolishing the nail structure. So, you need to get rid of it.

You can resort to medications and healing oils or other natural remedies, but there's a problem. All of these solutions cannot guarantee that the fungus won't be back.

Also, most medications can cause skin irritation and dryness because they put their entire focus on eliminating the fungus.

Now natural supplements can be a good alternative. These products are known for having long-lasting effects. One such herbal nail health supplement is Terracalm. Manufactured in the USA, in a state-of-the-art facility, Terracalm promises to eliminate nail infections within weeks of regular use.

All the ingredients used in the Terracalm powder are ethically sourced from the remote villages of France and Australia and interestingly, the components are backed by scientific evidence. Moreover, every finished batch of Terracalm is sent to a third-party lab to test the potency and the efficacy of the blend.

With such quality measures, you can be assured that the supplement is safe and won't cause any harmful side effects. Another interesting fact about Terracalm is the absence of stimulants and GMOs.

Most health supplements nowadays use multiple chemical additives to accelerate the effect they have on human health but Terracalm is different. The creators of the powder are aware of the harmful effects such components have on overall health, therefore, they decided to make their formulation stimulant and GMO-free.

Furthermore, ever since its release on the market, Terracalm reviews by real customers have flooded the internet and the main website.

It seems like people love how the powder can protect the nails and keep them moisturized and nourished for a long time. Some testimonials have even claimed that the supplement works better than medications.

To us, Terracalm looks like the best alternative to harsh medications and steroid-based creams, and if you think so too, keep reading our review of the supplement. You might be surprised to know how wonderfully Terracalm works and helps you find relief from the nasty fungus.

The Idea Behind Terracalm

The main motive behind creating a blend like Terracalm was to ensure that the nail bed is protected from future fungal attacks.

Nail health supplements to combat nail infections have always been on the market, but a formulation that fortifies the nails and trains the body to detect symptoms of a fungal infection before it becomes serious is new.

Each of the components used in Terracalm has been clinically tested to check whether it can clean the nails and keep them nourished enough to ward off incoming fungus in the future.

After days of such clinical trials and careful analysis, the ratio in which each ingredient would be added was finalized and the Terracalm supplement was created.

Does The Terracalm Supplement Work? Or Is It Another Elaborate Scam?

With the number of online health supplement scams going on, it's only natural to be skeptical about Terracalm as well. However, we can assure you that the powder works, so let us tell you how.

As you begin to consume the powder daily, the natural antioxidants in the formula try to neutralize the toxins released by the fungus. These toxins help the fungal infection to proliferate and once they are neutralized and flushed out of the system, your nail begins to heal.

Additionally, the herbs also have anti-inflammatory properties. So gradually your inflamed nails will begin to heal and all the redness and itchiness you were feeling will subside. Moreover, the essential oils and vitamin E in the Terracalm blend will actively support keratin levels to help your nail grow faster.

Then certain components also have the power to heal your skin beneath the nail. Often fungal and bacterial infections can break the skin's barrier and venture within to cause soreness, pain, and constant discomfort. Terracalm caters to this problem by healing the skin from within.

Lastly, some of the ingredients also boost the functioning of the immune cells as soon as they enter the body. This function ensures that your nails are protected from further bacterial and fungal infections, once they are healed completely.

Will Terracalm Suit Everyone?

Terracalm is considered safe and effective for both men and women, but while conducting our research we have found that the main website recommends a few groups to stay away from the supplement.

These groups include pregnant women, nursing mothers, teenagers below the age of 18, and anyone who is suffering from a chronic illness and requires strong medications to keep it under control.

If you take a closer look, you will realize that people who fall under these groups undergo bodily changes every day. So the logic behind not using a supplement like Terracalm is that the herbal formulation will react to the internal changes and cause unforeseen health hazards and fatal complications.

What Health Benefits Can One Expect From Terracalm?

Now, we move on to the most awaited section of our Terracalm review- the advertised health benefits of the supplement.

Moisturizes The Nail Bed

One of the most worrisome effects of nail fungus is dry and brittle nails. So, apart from eliminating the fungus, keeping the nails moisturized is extremely important. Terracalm uses multiple essential oils and herbs to achieve this benefit. If you use the supplement twice daily, you will see that your nails are optimally hydrated and nourished.

Neutralizes The Toxins

As the fungus attacks your nails, it begins to release toxins every day. These toxins make your nails turn yellow and itchy. This is where you need Terracalm.

The powder has potent antioxidants that actively detect toxins and neutralize them. The blend also prevents these toxins from entering your bloodstream in order to prevent further health problems. Once the toxic elements are neutralized, the supplement flushes them out of your system.

Promotes Keratin Production

Fungus or bacteria do not just affect your nails externally, they can also reduce the rate at which your nail grows by halting keratin production. The keratin protein is responsible for ensuring the healthy growth of nails so once the level of this protein's availability declines, your nail health takes a dip further.

Thankfully, one of the major benefits of Terracalm is its ability to boost keratin production. You can finally enjoy healthy nails and enhanced nail growth as you use the supplement daily.

Reviewing The Science Behind Terracalm

Here's what science has to say about the ingredients and working mechanism of Terracalm:

Sunflower Oil

Sunflower oil is rich in essential fatty acids, particularly linoleic acid. These elements are essential for maintaining the health of the skin and nails.

A study published in the Journal of Cosmetic Science in 2013 investigated the efficacy of sunflower oil in preventing nail fungal infections. The study involved 44 participants with toenail fungus, who applied sunflower oil to their affected nails twice a day for six months.

The results of the study showed that sunflower oil was effective in reducing the severity of toenail fungus in the majority of participants.

Manuka Honey

Manuka honey contains MGO which is formed when the bees convert the nectar from the manuka bush into honey.

The antibacterial properties of manuka honey are due to the presence of MGO, which is a reactive carbonyl compound that can interact with bacterial proteins and DNA, causing damage and ultimately killing the bacteria.

The moisturizing properties of manuka honey are due to its high sugar content, which can help bind moisture to the hair and prevent it from escaping.

Jojoba Oil

Jojoba oil has a chemical structure that closely resembles human sebum, making it an excellent moisturizer for the skin, hair, and nails.

One of the ways by which jojoba oil benefits hair is by moisturizing the scalp and hair follicles. The oil contains long-chain fatty acids that penetrate deep into the hair shaft, providing nourishment and hydration.

In addition to its moisturizing properties, jojoba oil also has anti-inflammatory and antimicrobial effects. This can help to soothe a dry, itchy scalp and prevent dandruff and other scalp conditions.

French Green Clay

French green clay is known for its detoxifying properties, which can help eliminate harmful toxins and impurities from the body. When it comes to nail health, French green clay can be particularly effective in preventing fungal infections, which are often caused by a buildup of bacteria and fungus under the nail.

One study published in the Journal of Antimicrobial Chemotherapy found that French green clay was effective in inhibiting the growth of various strains of bacteria and fungi, including Candida albicans, which is a common cause of nail fungus. The study concluded that French green clay has potential as a natural antifungal agent.

Australian Tea Tree Oil

Australian tea tree oil works by targeting the fungus that causes nail infections. The oil contains terpinen-4-ol, which is the main active ingredient responsible for its antifungal properties. Terpinen-4-ol works by disrupting the cell membranes of the fungus, causing it to die off. This mechanism of action is similar to other antifungal agents, such as azoles and allylamines.

In addition to its antifungal properties, Australian tea tree oil also has antibacterial properties. This means that it can help prevent bacterial infections that may occur alongside fungal infections. It also has anti-inflammatory properties, which can help reduce redness and swelling around the nail.

Aloe Vera

One of the core mechanisms by which aloe vera essential oil works to prevent nail issues such as fungus is through its antifungal properties.

A study published in the Journal of Ethnopharmacology found that aloe vera has potent antifungal activity against a range of fungal strains, including those that commonly cause nail infections.

Aloe vera essential oil also has moisturizing and nourishing properties that can help to strengthen and protect the nails from damage. Aloe vera contains polysaccharides that form a protective barrier on the surface of the nails, which can help to prevent moisture loss and protect the nails from environmental damage.

Menthol

Menthol has a cooling and soothing effect on the skin. This can help to relieve itching and discomfort associated with nail fungus. It can also help to reduce the pain and discomfort associated with ingrown toenails.

Another way that menthol promotes nail health is by improving blood flow to the nail bed. This is important because the nail bed is where the nail is formed. Improved blood flow means that the nail is getting the nutrients it needs to grow strong and healthy.

Finally, menthol can help to improve the appearance of nails. It can also help to reduce the yellowing that can occur as a result of nail fungus.

Do The Customers Love Terracalm?- Some Real Terracalm Reviews

Yes! The customers are very satisfied with Terracalm and below we will quote some Terracalm reviews for you to take a look at.

Marie's Terracalm review says, "I've tried many products to get rid of foot fungus before Terracalm. I even had one nail removed but when it grew back, the fungus returned. Terracalm is the only thing that actually helped.”

Clint’s Terracalm review reads, “I purchased the three-bottle pack. But after using it for 8 weeks and twice a day, my toenails are no longer yellow and thick. They are pink and clear again. Now I don’t have to hide my feet all the time from shame. I thought this wouldn’t work but to my surprise, it has cleared up my severe nail fungus and thickening of the nail and nail beds. Takes about 6 weeks to see significant improvement but stick with twice a day. Also as your nails soften, keep them trimmed as short as possible and massage in well after application.”
